Summary
and Outlook

Optimisation & Upscaling

Areas for optimization and methods for upscaling

- standardization of design and replication

- planning incremental upscaling

- financial and human resources allocation

- redefining the anticipated risks given the wider scale of implementation

- monitoring of progress including the definition of key performance indicators.

Facilitate 'handing over' to implementation partners / finance

A guidebook on risk-informed planning and heat mitigation

Practical guide for municipal actors, urban planners, policymakers, and community leaders seeking to adopt risk-informed approach and to integrate heat adaptation into their planning processes.

Practice-oriented examples:
- devising policies and strategies,
- optimizing the institutional set-up and steering structures,
- pursuing effective communication and public engagement
- utilising evidence-based planning using climate data.
